

What Shall I Wear Today?

Author: Natasha Sharma

Illustrator: Tanvi Bhat

Do you get the feeling sometimes that none of your clothes are just right? I do!

The shirt buttons trouble me.
The pants feel too tight on me.

The lehenga seems to trip me.
The choli does not fit me.

My salwar keeps slipping.
The golden zari keeps itching.

The churidaar pulls and tugs everywhere.
Nothing perfect seems to be there.

This frock is too bright.
Brother's T-shirt? What a funny sight!

Papa's kurta is rather long.
Mummy's sari is wrapped all wrong.
Some things are well out of my reach. Oh, it really makes me want to screech!

These clothes seem to say, 'We shall trouble you all day.'
But I have made up my mind today...

... to mix and match these clothes in a way that I have my very own style today!

What Shall I Wear Today?

(English)

On some days, it is so difficult to decide what to wear. The little girl in this story tries on many dresses before she finds the perfect one.

This is a Level 2 book for children who recognize familiar words and can read new words with help.

Pratham Books goes digital to weave a whole new chapter in the realm of multilingual children's stories. Knitting together children, authors, illustrators and publishers. Folding in teachers, and translators. To create a rich fabric of openly licensed multilingual stories for the children of India and the world. Our unique online platform, StoryWeaver, is a playground where children, parents, teachers and librarians can get creative. Come, start weaving today, and help us get a book in every child's hand!
