Level 1

Simmi knows Lolo very well.
She even knows Lolo with her eyes closed.

She knows if Lolo is nearby.

HELLO!

HELP!

She knows if Lolo is far away.

She knows where
Lolo is hiding

HEE HEE!

She knows when Lolo is scared.

HAS IT GONE?

And she knows when it is not Lolo!
Simmi knows Baloo with her eyes closed too!

BHAOO BHAOO!

How does Simmi know so much about Lolo without looking?
Everyone, including Lolo, sounds different depending on where they are.

The background is a light blue, textured surface. In the top left, there are several small orange fish and a larger pink fish. In the top center, a yellow and black bee is flying. On the right side, there is a red toy figure with yellow hands and a blue hat, and a green toy figure with yellow hands. In the bottom left, a pink girl with braids is peeking over a green bush. In the bottom center, a grey squirrel is sitting on a green bush. The text is centered in the middle of the page.

Voices become softer as people move further away and louder when they come closer. Voices also sound different when we're trying to be quiet or loud, and if we talk in a small, empty space or into a blanket.
